

To all Wyoming Writers Members (who have some of your own books lying around):

As chairperson for this year's Wyoming Writers 2017 Conference, I'm putting out a request for anyone of you out there who have one or two of your own books, new or older, that you may want to donate to our conference. These will be bundled up and given as door prizes. I realize, of course, you will be bringing boxes of your work to be sold at our Bookstore, but I thought it would be enticing for a few of our members to "win" a book or two, thereby sending them to the Bookstore to buy armloads of your other titles.

If you can part with one or two of your precious babies, please let me know by emailing me at: shannaferguson57@yahoo.com and we can make arrangements for shipment or just bring them to the conference, if I know they are coming.

Thanks, and look forward to seeing you all in Gillette!

Shanna
